DoA2: Hardcore Spot in Maxim

Brief: You'll get a laugh out of Tecmo's latest ad for this PS2 fighter.

The advertisements for Dead or Alive 2: Hardcore have been anything but the norm, and following the release of the machine on the PlayStation 2, Tecmo has put out a brand new advertisement in Maxim Magazine. It's quite a bit more – well – mature than the other advertisements that have been relased, but considering the audience of the publication, it'll probably do darn well at selling copies of the game.
