BIOGRAPHY

BETH HIRSCH General Manager, Designer HomeTending, Los Angeles

Beth Hirsch has nearly 25 years of experience in development and production for television and feature films in New York and Los Angeles. She spent several years as vice president of development at Chimera Productions in Los Angeles, where she produced specials for television, documentaries and family interactive programs. Beth left to form her own company, Elizabethan Films, where among other things, she produced a documentary and family related short films.

After completing a children's Halloween special, "Pumpkin Man," Hirsch formed a partnership with the director and created Pumpkin Pictures, which for six years developed and produced family entertainment. After leaving Pumpkin Pictures she continued to produce and consult for independent features and had a family talk show and reality series in the works, before deciding to leave the entertainment industry to stay home and take care of her adopted daughter.

Hirsch is now general manager of Designer HomeTending's Los Angeles office and she continues volunteer work for women and children's charities as well as national and local politics.

Designer HomeTending is the leading hometending company in the United States and provides a no-cost service that assists the owners of vacant homes by providing experienced and pre-qualified live-in managers to care for homes while on the market. The company has offices in Boise, Los Angeles, Salt Lake City, Denver, and Las Vegas.
